Cumming, IA 50061

Boston Reeves is an Associate Land Agent with Peoples Company, specializing in agricultural and rural real estate. Raised on his family's farm in Battle Creek, Nebraska, Boston developed a strong appreciation for agriculture and the importance of land ownership from an early age. His background in production agriculture and family business has given him a firsthand understanding of the challenges and opportunities faced by landowners and producers.

Boston earned a Bachelor's degree in Agricultural Business from the University of Nebraska–Lincoln. Through his work with Peoples Company, he assists clients with farmland transactions and is committed to providing honest guidance and service throughout the process. His passion for agriculture and strong ties to the industry allow him to help clients make informed decisions with confidence.
