BIO

David Raduechel serves the Capital Markets team as the Director of Accounting. He prepares and monitors Key Performance Indicator metrics, analyzes the financial performance of the company, and builds reports for the team to accurately provide a clear picture of the financial status of the company and managed assets. David reviews company statistics to make forecasts and projections as well as develops strategies to assess, manage, and minimize any potential financial risks. He oversees all aspects of accounting and tax filing preparation for the company and managed assets.

Prior to joining Peoples Company, David has held a variety of executive roles ranging from Controller of a $100 million import business to CFO of a start-up getting off the ground. Most recently he served as Controller for South American Beef, Inc. David oversaw the company's accounting department, projected cash flows, managed inventory, and coordinated with auditors and CPAs. Before that, he worked as the CFO and Director of Operations for FarrPro Inc. assisting founders of the ag-tech company with all matters of strategy planning, long-term funding demands, and day to day operations. David has also held the roles of CFO for a cosmetic dermatology practice and COO for a skincare development and manufacturing company. David attended the University of Iowa where he received his degree in finance.
