Dylan is a Land Manager with UFARM, and affiliate of Peoples Company based out of Kearney, Nebraska. Originally from Bertrand, Dylan brings a strong farming and agricultural background to his work, rooted in hands-on experience and a deep understanding of Nebraska's ag economy. He began his career with UFARM in January 2022 while pursuing his degree in Agribusiness, allowing him to combine classroom knowledge with real-world application from the start.

Dylan currently manages a portfolio of farms throughout Kearney and the surrounding counties. His agribusiness education provides a solid foundation for helping landowners make strategic, data-driven decisions to improve performance and long-term land value. Passionate about agriculture and rural communities, Dylan is committed to delivering thoughtful, customized management solutions for every farm he works with.
