Peoples Company - Cumming
1108 S. 44th Street, Suite 102
Cumming, IA 50061

Sue Kasperbauer serves as Controller for Peoples Company, overseeing financial and accounting operations for the company and its affiliated entities. She works closely with company leadership and the Accounting team on financial reporting and analysis, budgeting, cash management, financial planning, internal controls, and strategies that support the organization's continued growth.

With experience spanning multi-entity financial reporting, cash management, financial analysis, cost accounting, and financial systems implementation across the agriculture, energy, fleet, and financial services industries, Sue brings a broad financial and operational perspective to her role. Her background also includes experience in human resources and technology administration, adding depth when evaluating processes and business needs. She uses this diverse experience to identify efficiencies, improve financial visibility, and develop practical solutions that support an increasingly complex and growing organization.

Sue's leadership approach emphasizes collaboration, accountability, professional development, and continuous improvement. She is committed to helping team members expand their knowledge and capabilities while improving the processes, systems, and technology that allow the Accounting team to effectively support the organization.
